

THE NEW YORK CHARTER BILLS

NINE MORE OF THE SERIES OFFERED IN THE ASSEMBLY.

They continue to offer the Borough Presidents and Executive their salaries and affect parks, the Art Commission and the Municipal Courts.

ALBANY, March 9.—The special legislative committee of which Frederick W. Hammond is chairman, appointed to draft the proposed charter for New York, to-day submitted nine of its series of bills to the Assembly affecting parks, art commission, commissioners of deeds, city courts, hospitals, charities, legislative department, municipal courts and borough offices.

In discussing the proposed new charter, Chairman Hammond said to-day: "The committee is having drawn as rapidly as possible a tentative draft of the proposed New York charter, article by article. It is intended that this tentative draft shall contain the main features of the charter as stated in the report of the committee and shall form a working basis for the final draft of the charter. It is the purpose of the committee to have the final draft of the charter ready for introduction into the Assembly by the end of the month of April."

It is understood that in the introduction of these separate bills neither the committee nor the members introducing them are in any way committed to the form or subject matter contained therein, but that the same are introduced simply as a matter of convenience for the purpose of facilitating the work of the committee.

Assemblyman Conklin's bill appropriates $25,000 for the special joint committee which investigated the question of furnishing the city with a new charter. Another Conklin bill concerns the office of the Borough Presidents and equalizes their salaries at $7,500 a year, which is now paid at $5,000. A bill introduced by Assemblyman Lee concerns the commission's recommendations relative to establishing a department of public hospitals. The head of the department will be appointed by a board of nine trustees, three of whom shall be women. The trustees are to be representatives of charitable and religious bodies, and are to be named by the Mayor.

Single headed supervision of the parks by a Park Commissioner is made by a bill introduced by Assemblyman Lee.

Assemblyman Toombs put in the bill creating the art commission, to be composed of the Mayor, the president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the president of the New York Public Library, and president of the Brooklyn Institute of Art and Science, and six members to be appointed from lists submitted by the Fine Arts Federation of New York city in accordance with their particular qualifications.

Assemblyman Green handled the bill affecting the Department of Public Charities, which gives the Commissioner of Charities, who is the head of the department, control of city institutions for the permanent care and maintenance of poor persons.

Assemblyman Short introduced the civil code amendment of the Charter Commission's bill, to be introduced in behalf of New York city. The bill gives the Attorney-General and the Corporation Counsel of New York right to leave a summons without its being subscribed by a clerk of the court. The City Clerk is continued with its present jurisdiction and provision is made for the election of a clerk to serve in years after the expiration of the terms of those now serving.

Assemblyman Toombs handled the bill relating to the legislative department of the New York city government. It vests the legislative powers in the Board of Aldermen, and the Vice-Mayor and twenty-three Aldermen are to be elected for two years.

The act provides that no compensation shall be paid any Alderman after January 1, 1911, or after March 1 in any succeeding year, until provision has been made by the city government. The bill is to be introduced by the Mayor and the City Clerk. The power of investigation, granted by the present law to the Board of Aldermen and its committees is added the power of such special committees to employ counsel.

Assemblyman Conklin introduced the commission's bill in relation to the Municipal Court of New York city. It repeals the present provisions and inserts a new title, under which the successors to the present Justices will be elected for ten year terms. The Justices are required to give their whole time to the work. The Board of Justices is continued substantially as at present. The salary of the Justices is to be fixed by the Board of Justices, and the salary of the clerk of the court is to be fixed by the Board of Justices. The salary of the clerk of the court is to be fixed by the Board of Justices. The salary of the clerk of the court is to be fixed by the Board of Justices.

NEW BILLS AT ALBANY.

One Gives Mr. Aldermen Power to Lease Storage Warehouses—Housing in Schools.

ALBANY, March 9.—The New York City Board of Aldermen will have power to lease storage warehouses under a bill of Assemblyman Foley.

Assemblyman Spiegelberg has a bill providing that any person who is admitted to Bellevue and Allied Hospitals shall be admitted free of all charge, and if the person has money in their possession none is to be taken from them.

Another bill of Spiegelberg provides that the public schools in New York shall have among their exercises a primary boxing studies for boys, so as to develop body strength.

A bill of Assemblyman Walker prohibits the laying of wooden block pavements in New York city.

Assemblyman Jesse Phillips empowers the State Forest, Fish and Game Commission to lease for a term not longer than two years, land, water, or any other resource, not more than five acres in one parcel, to any person for the erection of camps or cottages for the use and accommodation of vacationers.

Assemblyman Arima Ward, Jr., introduced his new primary elections bill for New York city. This is Mr. Ward's bill of last year extending to primary elections in New York city similar provisions for identification of voters to those which now apply to the November elections in this city. Some minor changes have been made in last year's bill.

FOR THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

Physicians From All Parts of the State Plan War Against Diseases.

ALBANY, March 9.—If the plans outlined to-day at the meeting of medical experts of the State Department of Health are carried out public health work in this State will receive a great impetus.

Physicians from every part of the State who are well known sanitarians will undertake the warfare against tuberculosis, check epidemics and promote the sanitary conditions of cities and villages.

To-day the manner of investigation of a typhoid epidemic was outlined by Theodore H. Hering, chief engineer of the State Department of Health. Allick H. Seymour, secretary of the department, talked on the public health law and F. D. Baglin, on practical suggestions on vital statistics.

The registration of experts was completed to-day, districts were assigned and a wide field of educational work will be undertaken at once. Meetings will be held throughout the State and every effort will be made to put the work of public health officials on a higher plane and afford them the advantage of expert advice.

DANCE SHOCKED POLICEMAN

So He Took Dancer to Court Where She Promised to Be Good.

Millie De Leon, "The Girl in Blue," who has been performing at the New York roof theatre, in an "eccentric dance," was a prisoner in the West Side police court yesterday charged with offending public decency.

Policeman Christian of the West Forty-seventh street station who witnessed her performance told Magistrate Krotel yesterday that the dancer shocked him.

"She had some clothing up around the shoulders," he said, "but less, from that down to the skirt. The latter reached to her knees."

"You really were shocked?" asked the Court.

"Yes, sir," responded Christian. "After she had finished part of her dance," the policeman continued, "she seemingly stripped garters from her legs and flung them out to the audience as souvenirs."

Christian had brought Miss De Leon to court on a summons. Magistrate Krotel ordered him to make a complaint against her.

An anonymous letter was sent to Capt. Font of the West Forty-seventh street police station last Monday complaining of the dancer.

He went to see the policeman, but to satisfy himself had Christian and another policeman, Stup, also view the exhibition.

Stup frankly admitted yesterday that he was not shocked.

"Well I should say not," said the dancer. "Why I wear a great deal more clothing than does Gertrude Hoffman in her 'Spring Song,'" she told Magistrate Krotel.

"My costume weighs 132 pounds," she added, "and as for the garters, I do not take them from my legs. I only pretend to. The garters I wear have diamond buckles and I couldn't afford to distribute them as souvenirs."

"Well there must be something offensive to a citizen I have heard of your dance," the magistrate said. "I've heard that several times," said the Magistrate.

The lawyer who appeared for Miss De Leon told the Court that if the dancer is so offensive to the public, she will stop it right off.

"Well if she does I will dismiss this charge," said the Magistrate. Miss De Leon promised to stop it.

Miss De Leon said she had a letter from Justice Deuel of Special Sessions which practically endorsed her dance, but which he had given her the letter she said after her arrest two years ago when she felt that she would be unable to get another engagement. Sentence was suspended at that time.

MAY GET MORE PAY.

Hearing on Bill to Increase Salaries of Westchester County Supervisors.

ALBANY, March 9.—Gov. Hughes gave a hearing on the bill of Assemblyman Haines to-day providing that the Westchester county Board of Supervisors shall have power to increase the salaries of supervisors.

The bill provides that the salary of supervisors shall be fixed by the law of $200 to $600 per annum to a new minimum and maximum of $500 and $1,000. The increase if made would not apply to members of the present board.

A. Forsythe, chairman, and Edgar Prescott, a member of the present board, and by Charles A. Van Aukon, the county attorney. There was no opposition and Gov. Hughes reserved his decision.

FORTUNATE POLITICIAN.

Mrs. a House From the City for $25 a Month and Let it for $350.

Mayor Gaynor was told two weeks ago that a house owned by the city at 100 Walker street had been leased in 1898 by the bureau of city revenue of the Finance Department to a politician at $25 a month and that the politician was getting $300 a month out of it by letting it as a tenement.

Commissioner of Accounts, Foxford, to-day reported yesterday that the facts which had been laid before the Mayor were substantially correct and that the politician was getting $300 a month out of it by letting it as a tenement.

Mr. Hines testified that he had taken the lease for himself, but really for a constituent of his, Paul Kaninick, who was also one of his election district captains. Thereupon Kaninick was subpoenaed and gave the names of his nine tenants of the property. He received by each $25 a month, totaling up $225 a month. The tenants were then subpoenaed and confirmed this evidence. J. D. Drex, a real estate expert, was examined and testified that the fair value of the house on a long lease was $25 a month, the tenant to do the repairs, in place of $300 a year which the city gets.

Other city leases are likely to be looked into.

CAR STRIKE IN TRENTON.

Employees of Local Line Go Out on Refusal of Union's Demands.

TRENTON, N. J., March 9.—The motormen and conductors of the Trenton Street Railway Company, numbering about 150, went on strike to-night following the refusal of the company to accede to the demands made upon it by the local union recently organized here. The beginning of the strike was attended with disorder, the men taking their cars to the barn at the end of the evening rush hour.

The union demands for the men an increase from 20 cents to 23 cents an hour, ten hours work in twelve consecutive hours, the adjustment of grievances through a committee of the union and the reinstatement of all the men who were discharged for joining the union.

The company, through its general manager, Peter E. Hurley, has declared that it will not recognize the union and that it will pay no higher wages than at present. Mr. Hurley said that no effort would be made to run the cars to-day to-morrow, when he hopes to be able to maintain complete schedules.

The Trenton Street Railway Company is a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania Railway Company, which has lines in Chester and Reading, Pa., and Wilmington, Del. None of the other trolley lines with terminals in this city is affected by the local strike.

BEST WAD AFTER SPANKING.

Baker Asks Help in Finding Daughter Missing Since Tuesday.

A general alarm was sent out from Police Headquarters last night for Julia Fabian, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Anton Fabian, a baker in Sherry's, who lives on the top floor of the tenement at 305 East Seventy-sixth street. According to her father, the girl was sent out by her mother to do an errand Tuesday afternoon and did not return with the change for a dollar which had been given her. Her father later found her on the roof and she told him she had lost the dollar. He did not believe her story and spanked her.

The family did not see her again. Two little girls told the police that they had seen her on the roof last night, at 307, with two men about 3 o'clock that afternoon.

Steigleitor to Be Indicted.

The Hudson county, N. J., Grand Jury voted in Jersey City yesterday afternoon to find an indictment for embezzlement against former Building Inspector Frederick Steigleitor of Hoboken, whom Mayor George Gonzalez of that city accused of taking for seven years to turn over to the city any money received by him as building permit fees.

THE Remington Typewriter

does more things and covers a wider range of uses than any mechanical appliance ever known. Here are some of the things which it does: It writes; it adds or it subtracts, in one column or many; it proves the totals; it automatically reveals errors; it does any kind of work you want, and it writes as many copies as you want. Of all the writing or adding machines ever invented, it is the one MACHINE WHICH DOES IT ALL.

PREVENTORIAL TROUBLE-MAKER.

To Remove From Lakewood and Work Under a New State Law.

TRENTON, N. J., March 9.—The directors of the tuberculosis preventorium at Lakewood and the residents of that resort who are opposed to its location there at a long conference here this afternoon reached an amicable agreement for the enactment of a law that will give the State Board of Health supervision over all such institutions.

The directors of the preventorium announced that the institution would be moved from Lakewood to a farm six miles north and a mile from the Central railroad. The new site is over the Ocean county line in Monmouth county. It was given out that Arthur Brisbane had given the farm and the buildings to the men and women who are behind the preventorium project.

Archibald S. Alexander of Hoboken, a member of the board of directors, dictated the bill, which was placed in the hands of the Committee on Revision of Laws, with the content of the Assemblyman Crosby of Ocean, introduced of the original restrictive measure, as satisfactory to all parties.

Marion M. Marks, president of the preventorium board, said after the conference: "The substitute bill meets with our entire approval. We have agreed to move the preventorium to a farm six miles from Lakewood to the pipes and will develop there an institution that will accommodate the children of the poor and the people for funds to maintain our institution, for we will need $100,000 a year. We have $50,000 in the treasury and will need $50,000 more to develop our institution and put up the buildings that we want."

Those interested in the preventorium propose to arrange for popular membership certificates at from $1 to $1,000. Mr. Marks will receive contributions as president at his office, 367 Broadway, New York city, as will Alexander S. Wells, treasurer at the Lincoln Trust Company, New York city.

"We welcome children, without regard to their place of residence," Mr. Marks said. "Whether they live in New York or New Jersey has nothing to do with the charge. We care for them free of charge. Appointments for day and night care are made at 105 East Twenty-second street, New York city, or at the institution."

WHITEFIELD SAYS HE'S HARD UP.

His Wife Says He's Known as Gerald George, but Has $12,000 a Year Yet.

Justice Stratton in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn yesterday received decision on an application for alimony and counsel for Alice Louise Whitefield's suit for divorce brought against George B. Whitefield, a broker. Counsel for the defendant said that his client was practically impoverished, that his earning capacity was less than $75 a week and that all his jewelry was in pawn.

Mrs. Whitefield charges that her husband is known in certain circles as "Gerald George," the Whitehouse, and is in the habit of giving birth certificates to children who are born to her. She was married to George B. Whitefield on December 20, 1900, and that five years later he told her that he was in love with a woman known as May Divine Clark. Later, according to the complaint, he became friendly with a woman known as "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge" company. Mrs. Whitefield says that her husband was charged with stealing $50,000 from the company, and that he was living with her and that he testified in the Magistrate's court to spending large sums of money on her in addition to having placed $40,000 in a safe deposit box for her.

At a birthday party in honor of Bertie Martin there was a large levy of chorus girls, according to the plaintiff, and some of the money was given to the "Queen of the Moulin Rouge" and "In Havana" were represented.

Mrs. Whitefield lives at 335 Franklin avenue. Her sister, Mrs. E. Hurley, has declared that until its failure some time ago, and according to the plaintiff is a member of the Lamb, Larchmont, Yach, Broken Turle, Fordham, Duxbury, Rowing and the New York Athletic club. She says that his income is $12,000 a year. He says that he has spent all of his money and has been dropped from several clubs because of non-payment of dues.

SAYS MEN LIVE LONGER.

Compares Eight Hour Day Has Added 15 Years to Cigar-makers' Lives.

CHICAGO, March 9.—"Since the introduction of the eight hour day among cigar-makers of the United States within the last few years the average life of men engaged in the craft has increased fifteen years," said Samuel Gompers to-day when testifying before the hearing of the railroad trainmen in wage arbitration proceedings.

Mr. Gompers supported the contention of the trainmen that long hours of employment were provocative of injury and should be amply recompensed. In addition to a demand for higher wages the men are asking for shorter hours.

President F. A. Delano of the Washburn and R. W. Stevens, superintendent of the Western Indiana Belt Railroad, testified to the alleged impracticability of the "time and a half for overtime" question being agitated by the trainmen.

SHOULD CHANGE PRISON SITE.

ALBANY, March 9.—Majority Leader Merritt introduced in the Assembly to-day a bill making it possible for the State to abandon the Bear Mountain prison site and to establish the proposed new prison immediately below the junction of Wappingers Creek and the Hudson. The bill gives the State the right to acquire the Bear Mountain-Morgan-Perkins park site.

ASKS SUPPORT FOR HER CHILD.

Mrs. Merrill Sues Broker Lazarus Levy Again.

Mrs. Susie A. Merrill, whose arrest on a charge of perjury ended her $100,000 breach of promise suit brought in June 1908, against Lazarus Levy, a broker at 111 Broadway, has brought proceedings to make Levy support her baby, Dorothy May, born on April 6, 1907. Levy was arrested yesterday and released by Justice Joseph M. Denel in Special Sessions in $200 bail. The case, which is brought in the name of Charles Drummond, will be heard on March 19.

At the trial of the breach of promise suit in the Supreme Court Justice Fitzgerald stopped the taking of testimony, directed the jury to find a verdict for the plaintiff and two of her witnesses, Mrs. Timothy Lynch of Franklin, Mass., and Dr. Edward Paulding, on a charge of perjury. The testimony that caused summary action related to the birth of the child for which Mrs. Merrill now seeks support to keep it from becoming a charge upon the county.

She swore that Levy was the father of the child, and Mrs. Lynch swore that she and Dr. Paulding were present when the child was born. Later Mrs. Lynch admitted that the physician arrived after the child was born and Dr. Paulding admitted that he signed the birth certificate filed with the Board of Health upon the word of Mrs. Lynch that Mrs. Merrill had given birth to the child. The physician also admitted that his visit was on April 10 instead of April 6, the supposed date of the child's birth.

Mrs. Merrill, who will be required to swear that she is too poor to support the child, gave her address as the Martha Washington Hotel. At the hotel last night Levy and Mrs. Merrill gave up their rooms yesterday.

Mrs. Susie Merrill was a witness in the Harry K. Thaw murder trials. Her testimony was that Thaw was armed with a young woman in a boarding house that she kept on the upper West Side.

Lazarus Levy, who is 68 years old and has grown children, lives at 9 East Sixty-first street.

WRIGHT TO SEE PAULHAN FLY.

The Frenchman Hopes to Prove at Jamaica That His Aerobics Are Different.

Louis Paulhan will attempt to prove to Wilbur Wright to-morrow afternoon at the Jamaica racetrack that the Farman and Blériot aeroplanes used by him do not infringe on the Wrights' patent.

Yesterday afternoon, by consent of H. C. Touman, counsel for the Wright brothers, and Clarence J. Shearn, representing Paulhan, an agreement was made to postpone the application for a rehearing of the recent injunction proceedings before United States Judge Hand from to-day until next Tuesday, that the defendant might provide a bond and continue his flights. It is stipulated that Paulhan deposit a bond or cash at the rate of $2,000 a week, the sum named by Judge Hand in the injunction, pending the final decision.

To-morrow's exhibition will be witnessed by the aerobists for both sides and other aeronautical experts besides Wilbur Wright. Edward J. Cleary, manager for Paulhan, proposes to make the event strictly invitational. At 3 o'clock a special car will take passengers from Flatbush, across the Long Island Sound, to be permitted inside the course without credentials.

If the weather conditions are favorable Paulhan may try for a new height record, but he will endeavor to restrict his flights to a small area. He will continue his exhibitions on Saturday and Sunday.

J. W. Turzou, who has been trying a Farman machine in Indiana, wants to exhibit it over the grounds of the Aeronautic Society at Mineola, L. I. He brought two Farman machines several months ago but has been unable to find an aviator.

CLING TO ROPE ABOUT NECK.

Negro Makes Desperate Effort to Save Himself From White Lynchers.

GREENWOOD, Miss., March 9.—Grasping the rope by which he was suspended with his hands, Henry Wallace, a negro preacher, saved himself from strangling in the noose placed around his neck by a mob who wished to avenge an assault the negro had made on a policeman.

Wallace hung thus for twenty minutes. Some one in the mob pulled on the negro's heels. The rope broke and the man fell to the ground quivering. He died an hour later, the members of the mob howling around his body.

The lynching of the negro followed an attack on the part of Patrolman Shuck to collect a small debt which he said the negro owed him. The negro refused to pay on demand. A dispute followed.

The patrolman is alleged to have drawn his revolver and to have fired every chamber at the negro. When the gun was emptied the negro grabbed the policeman by the throat, threw him to the ground and made off. Then followed the negro's capture and lynching.

NINA'S DINGY FOUND.

Lost Yag's Small Boat Had Been Beached North of Hog Island.

NORFOLK, Va., March 9.—The dingy of the naval tug Nina, which, with thirty-two men on board, has been missing for more than a month, was brought into Hampton Roads late this afternoon by the scout cruiser Birmingham.

It was found on the beach by the life savers of the Matconk Life Saving station eighteen miles north of Hog Island and is the first object that has been recovered from the Nina. The Norfolk Navy Yard for Boston early in February.

Two sides of the Spring overcoat problem.
